1939

Dear Sirs
I hope you will have a good and long life & we will be very good friends.
Your personal character and I do hope we will be good friends. We are very good friends and I do hope we will be good friends.

Dear Lynn.

I have known you
for a long time and have enjoyed your friendship very much.
But just because school is out I won't forget you.

Ed. Bushell

Dear Lynn,
I have known you
for a long time and
have enjoyed your friendship very much.
This year hasn't been very good for our friendship but I hope it will get better.
Yours sincerely,
Ed. Bushell

Dear Lynn,
It's been great knowing you, and I hope our friendship lasts forever.

Dear Lynn,

I surely have enjoyed your friendship and surely hope it may continue. Just because we graduate this year don't let that make any difference
in our friendship.

Wishing you all the success
and happiness I remain,

Lyle Sharp.

The play was fun & pretty cool didn't it?

Dear Lynn.

Well, I've known you for quite a long time and I've enjoyed your friendship very much. You are a darn nice kid & I like you very much.

Success & Happiness

Margie Clark

Lynn.

Dear [redacted]

I haven't known you long, but since we have graduated with you, I've found out what a really swell kid you are.
Here's wishing you luck.

Your friend,

Janet.

Dear Lynn, (Edgar)

I surely have enjoyed your friendship and surely hope it
may continue. Just because we graduate this year don't let that make any difference
in our friendship.

Wishing you all the success
and happiness I remain,

Lyle Sharp.

The play was fun & pretty cool
didn't it?

Yours,

Yours truly,

Yours truly,

Yours truly,

Yours truly,

Yours truly,

CONVENTS

Dear Lynn
We have had a lot of fun in speech and Botany.

I am glad I had the chance of your friendship.
May your future be bright and happy.

Sue Olson

Dear Lynn,
I was awfully busy. I wanted the time spent with you probably got someone else busy. I hope you will have a nice time here.
I will send you news about our so long.
I will be always with you.

FOREWORD

As the progress of ore to market is filled with intricate patterns of activity, so, too, is the high school year from September to May. The vivid colors of autumn, the frigid beauty of winter, and the refreshing tints of spring have been blended by pen, palette, and camera and perpetuated as exciting, poignant, and variegated memories within the pages of this book. Its contrasting moods . . . thrilling activities, scholastic achievements, and friendships . . . will live forever.

DEDICATION

Out of the blast furnaces of a mighty industry mushroom the skyscrapers, trains, automobiles, ships, and factories that mark the progress of civilization in a modern world. Realizing our dependence upon this most vital metal, we dedicate this book to Steel in the hope that we might absorb its indestructible characteristics and weld them into our daily lives.

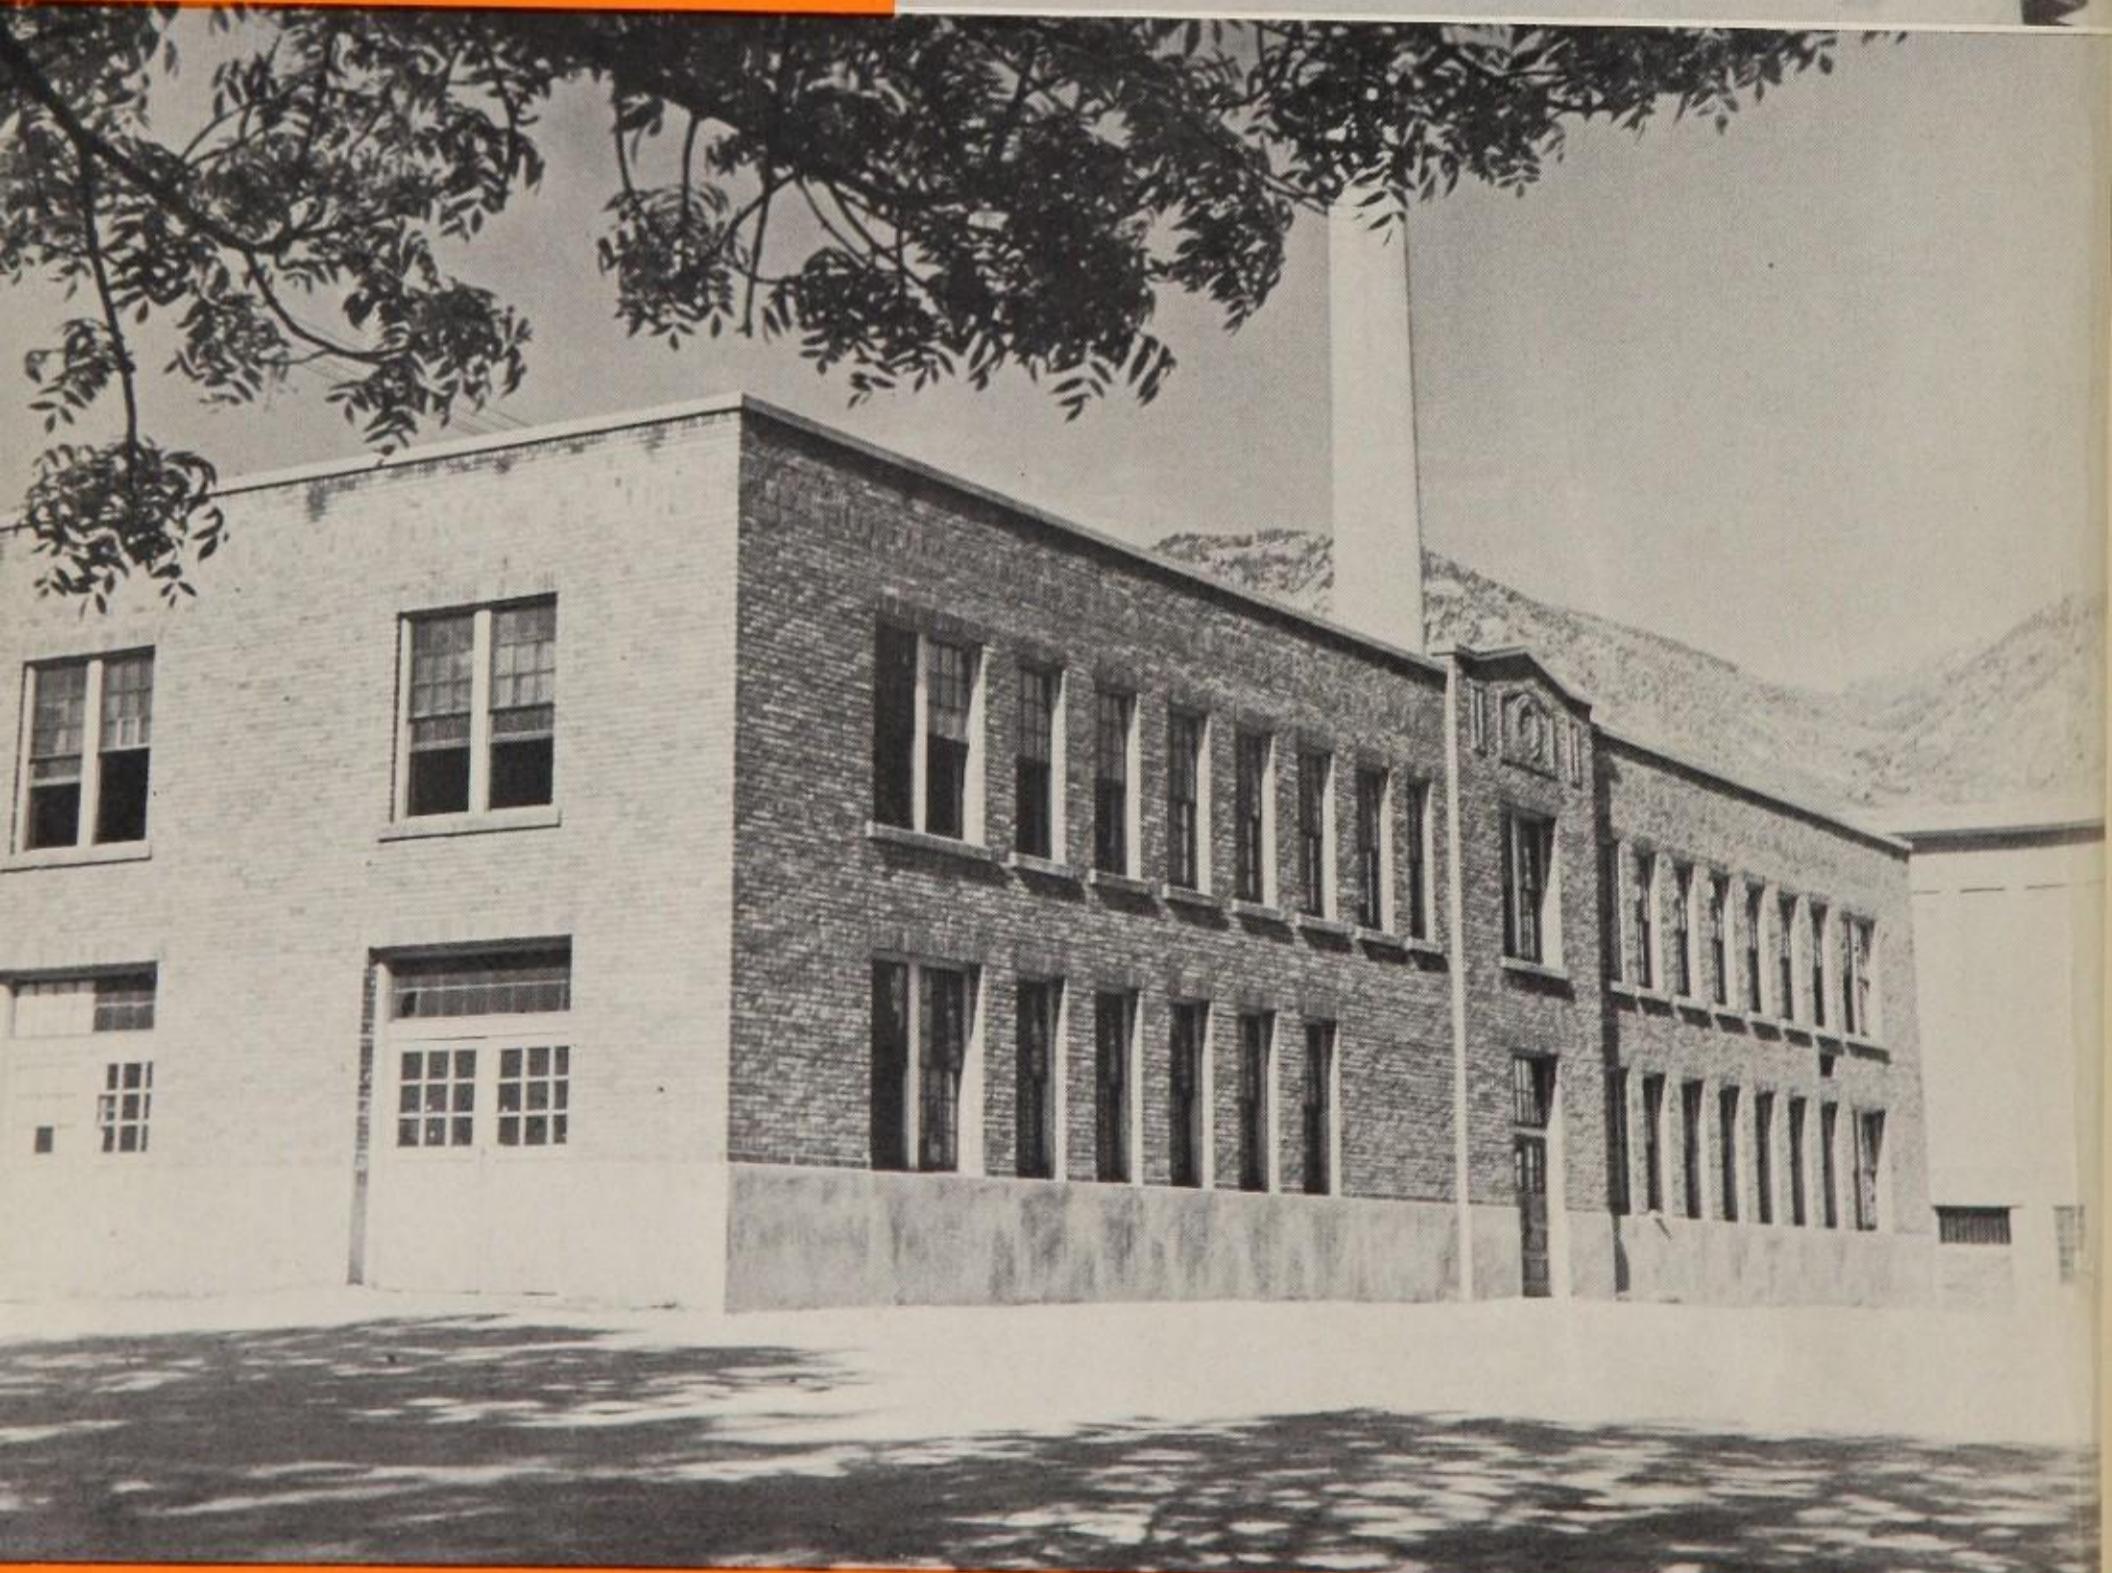

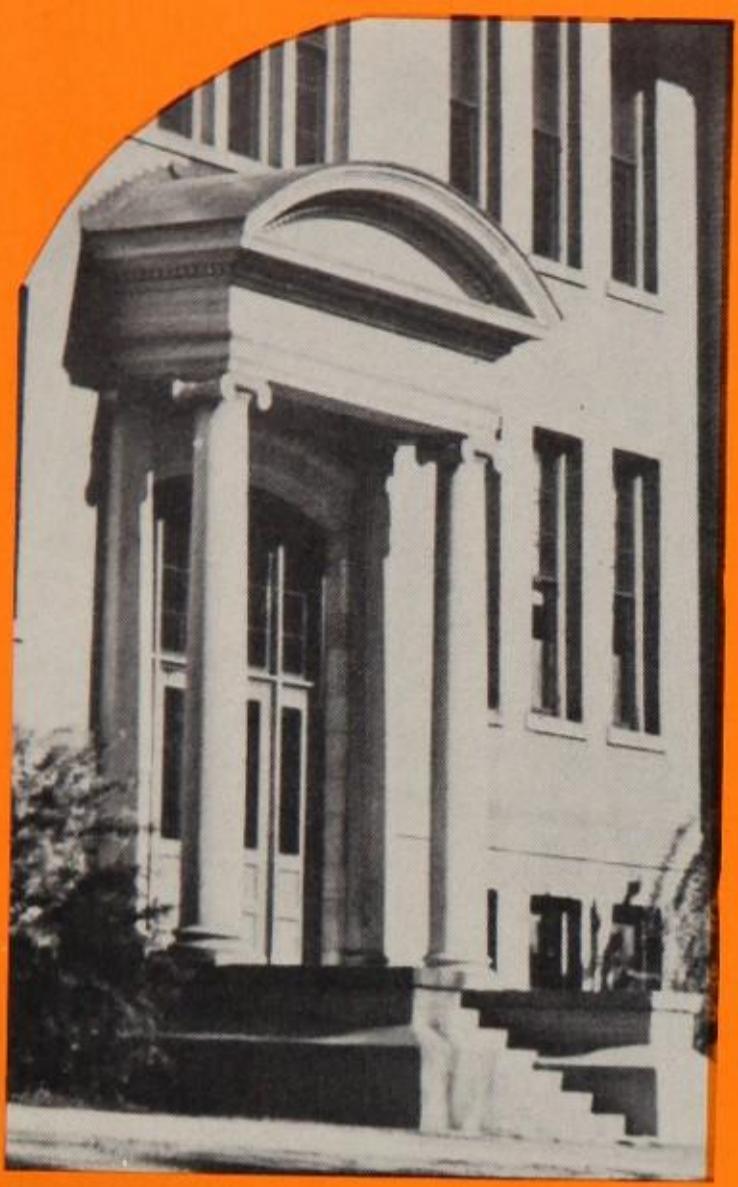

We acknowledge our indebtedness to C. T. Keigley and the Columbia Steel Corporation who have aided immeasurably in developing this theme.

MEMORIAM

We'll miss their laughter in the halls
Their sense of jovial fun
We'll miss them as our friends the most of all
When this school year is done.
We'll have them in our memories
As companions in work and play
But consolation we will know
"They are not gone, but just away."

Administration

Conceived in metal, born of fire, swaddled and girded, riveted and soldered, a new industry forged into national prominence during one of the most progressive periods of American history, a period whose progress was reflected in its conception. Many of the achievements of the past century—the opening of the prairies, the wresting of metals from the bowels of the earth, the conquest of distance by land, water and air—were accomplished by steel.

The output of the rolling mills and forges, the finished products of the iron and steel plants, become the raw materials of other manufacturers and add immeasurably to modern life.

Homer Clark

Within the covers of this year-book are found the achievements of our beloved school. For us it should forever be both a beautiful memory and a lasting challenge. From each page we should silently and sincerely read: "Did I do my best?"

Sincerely,
Mr. Moffitt.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Left to right: Algie E. Ballif, Vice-president; J. C. Moffitt, Superintendent; Bert Crane, President; Dr. Milton Marshall, and Dr. Amos N. Merrill. Not pictured: J. Fred Fescher, clerk; Vernard Anderson.

The Provost summarizes in words and pictures the activities of the past nine months of school. An ideal goal for all students would be to continue on in the functions of life that have characterized the performance of the activities portrayed in this book.

Sincerely,
Mr. Weight.

GIRLS ORGANIZATION

Some of the most important events of the year's calendar were directed by the Girls' Council—the Harvest Carnival Jamboree, Get Acquainted Tea, Ice Skating and Swimming parties, Bicycle hike, and an assembly, banquet, and dance on Girls' Day.

Climaxing the year's activities, a canyon party, and the annual Girls' Playday at the University of Utah where council members attended, was sponsored by the group.

GIRLS ORGANIZATION OFFICERS

Standing: Margaret Wilson, Secretary; Geraldine Steedman, Vice - President.

BOYS ORGANIZATION

Many of the brightest memories of the past year can be traced to the Annual Boys' Day Dance. Featuring a "Holiday in Hades" theme, it highlighted a day that also included a special assembly. Sponsoring a "Smokeless Smoker" was also one of the projects conducted by the Boys' Organization to demonstrate their ability as the stronger sex. Capable leadership, efficiency, and cooperation marked their efforts.

PUBLIC SERVICE GROUPS

Supplying programs for our assemblies as well as for civic and church programs, maintaining an efficient lost and found department, and the compilation of an accurate history of the year's events—these are the tasks completed by this energetic group of civic-minded students. To them goes both the appreciation of the faculty and students, and the knowledge of a job well done.

Classes

The modern miracles accomplished by steel might well be impossible were it not for the skill with which the industry has utilized the natural conditions at the mines and along the route taken by trainloads of potential utility. Railroad lines have unwound their rails from mine to smelter, from manufacturers to consumers. Nature's resources — minerals in abundance, water, fuel, and transportation — were found in favorable abundance. Man took advantage of them and hammered out the industry of steel, hammered out an industry that employs thousands and brings prosperity, peace and security to America.

The blast furnaces of its plants blaze forth their song of victory from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

SENIORS

Sponsoring a roller-skating party, a canyon fun-fest, the annual Senior Hop, and the senior project, this class brought to a close three years of activity in Provo high school. With graduation they leave behind them their high school days but the experiences and memories gained here will live forever.

JUNIORS

Members of the class of '40, this year's juniors, will step into the offices left vacant by vacationing graduates. Such events as a grubfest, a roller-skating party, and the Junior Prom, which this year featured a "Chivalry" theme, have prepared them for next year's responsibilities.

SOPHOMORES

"The Baby Class" this year showed themselves to be everything but that when they participated actively in the activities of Provo High. Debating, athletics, speech, art, and commerce, all had their share of this enthusiastic, able class. They sponsored and inaugurated the first sophomore ball in many years. Their "I Remember Day" was a success that will remain memorable for many years. The future years hold much for this class who will be its future officers and main-stay.

Steel products are found in every branch of industry. Without steel rails, railway transportation in its present form would cease. Without steel skeletons to support them, skyscrapers could not rise. The manner in which raw materials are assembled, the ore smelted in blast furnaces, purified and converted into steel ingots, and then rolled into rails for our railroads, into beams for construction purposes, or into bars and plates for manufacture, is truly a modern miracle of efficiency, the romance of steel.

The efficiency with which it is accomplished is a tribute to the ingenuity of the steelmaster, technician, mechanic and laborer.

SPEECH ENTRANTS

A one-act play, "Afraid of the Dark," was the entrant of Provo high school at the Brigham Young University's annual speech tournament. Cast members included Lynn Taylor, Glendon Thurber, Bert Miller, Robert Sturgill, Robert Scott, and Walter Wiest.

An original pantomime written and directed by Eunice Bird, speech director, was awarded an Excellent rating at the tournament. Eugene Faux, Ione Finch, Lawrence Graham, Birdie Boyer, Norma Taylor, and David Ridge were the cast members.

Student written and directed, a radio skit was also entered in the contest. Melba Mendenhall and Loreen Newell were student directors and co-authors. Voices heard were Dick Ollerton, Bert Whipple, Grant Peterson, Loreen Newell, Walter Wiest, Bert Miller, Lorin Johnson, and Glen Gardner.

BAND

PAUL PEAY Drum-major

Provo high school's crack band carried on the tradition of former years and added new honors to those of the past. Under the direction of Wesley Pearce, they participated in civic and patriotic parades, band contests, and concerts.

Paul Peay drum-majored the group during the past season. Divided into two pep organizations, they also played at the home games for the bulldog cagers and football games.

ORCHESTRA

Batoned by Wesley Pearce, Provo high school's orchestra presented concerts before the school plays, accompanied the opera and in general have achieved their aim of higher standards for orchestral music.

Mr. Pearce's ability and endeavors have been well reflected in the musical performance of this talented group.

This year's commercial department, tutored by Ethel Spencer, Harold J. Boyack, and Glenn R. Kenner, added many new laurels to their already pretentious collection of prize awards. Participating for the first time in the Snow Junior College event as well as the Brigham Young university's annual commercial meet, individual awards and scholarships were won by Alice Turner, Dorothy Wilde, Enid Pendleton, and Bernice Harris. Team awards were won for second year bookkeeping and combination first and second year shorthand.

Shirley Oldroyd, Alice Turner, Mrs. Spencer, Annie Richardson, and Elaine Snarr. Mrs. Spencer can well be proud of the accomplishments her group has made further proving her exceptional ability.

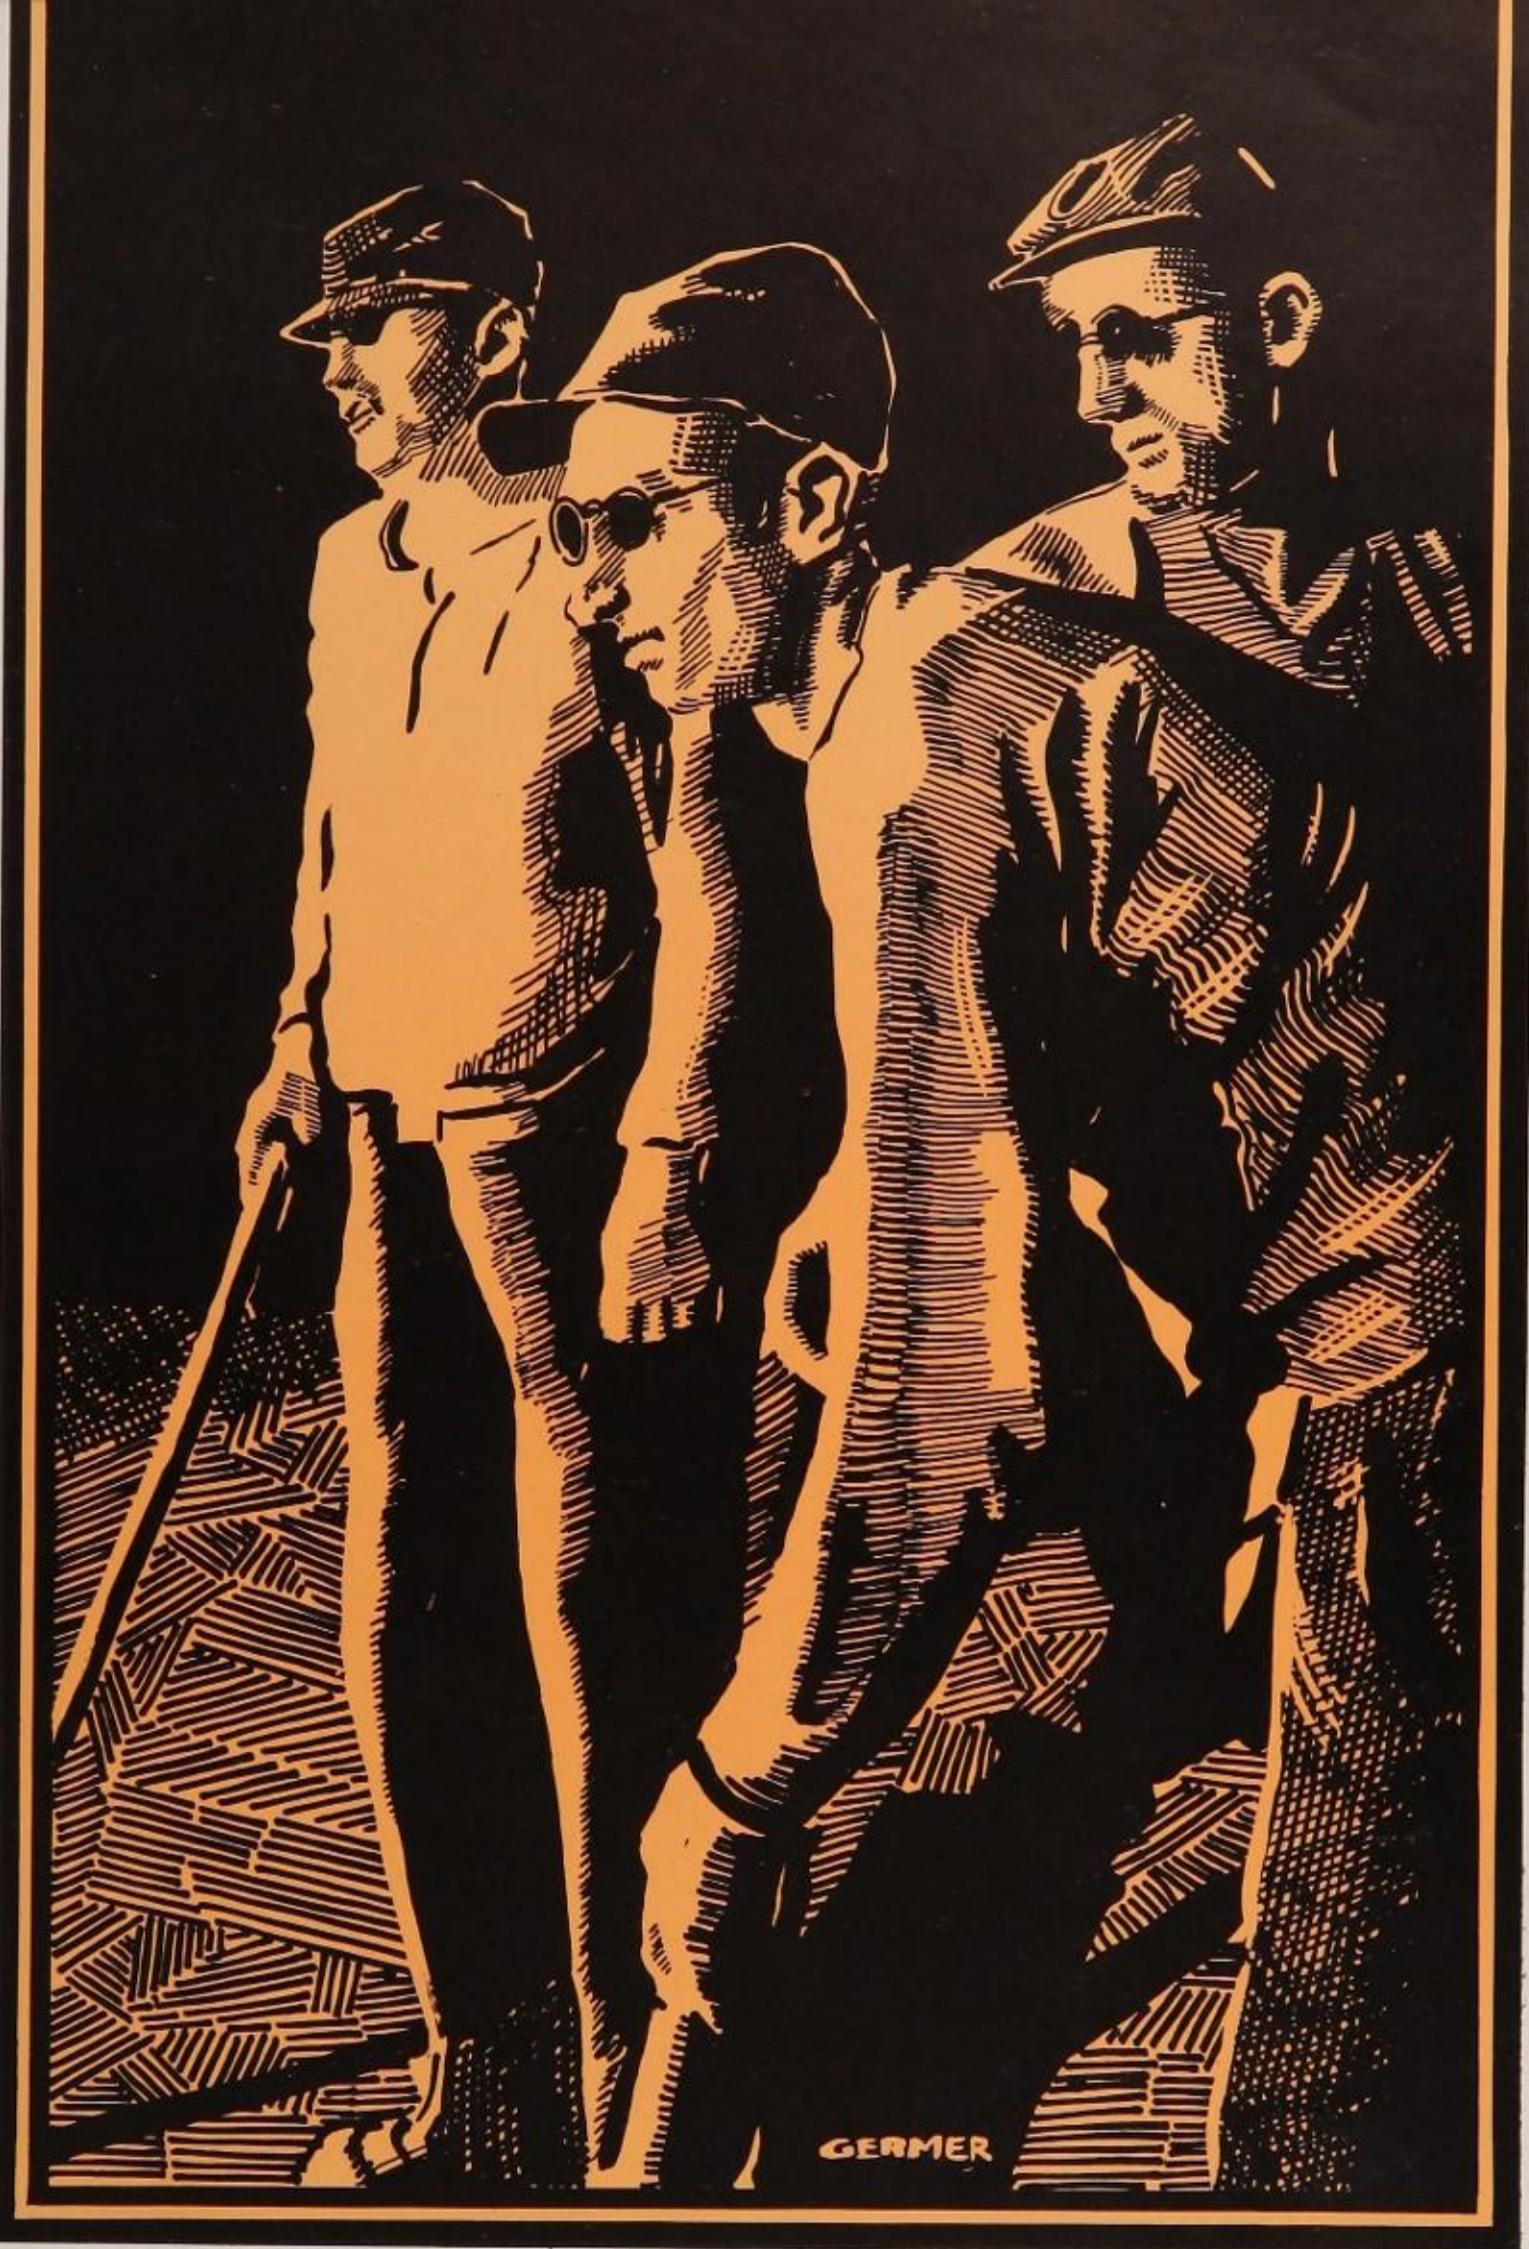

First and second year bookkeeping teams. Alan Perry, Sherman Coleman, Bert Bench, Harold J. Boyack, Georgianna Bates, Keith Ercanbrack, and Bent Johnson.

Mr. Boyack's plaque winners for second year bookkeeping. Efficiency - plus marks all of their efforts.

PROVONIAN STAFF

Results, that is an apt description of this year's Provonian staff. Winning the first All-American rating in the history of its publication, this group was also a mainstay in school affairs. Not only has the staff issued the paper bi-weekly, but also it has published the Pro-Log, first P. H. S. student directory, and won three of five honor awards at the Brigham Young university journalism conference last December.

PROVOST STAFF

To capture the thrills, excitements, and memories of a school year between the pages of a yearbook, to present old scenes and acquaintances in a fresh and interesting manner through word and picture—that is the task facing any yearbook staff. How well this year's Provost workers have succeeded will be tested in future years when every page awakens dormant fancies.

Provo High School Observes Annual Girls' Day

Heads Activities

Betty Simmons

Assembly, Dance Feature 'Heaven'

Honorary basketball banquet—Girls' assembly, Girls' basketball game—these are only a few of the events which have been conducted through the annual Girls' Day today, with the dance to be sponsored this evening.

Not only are Provo girls to reign over the school throughout the day, but also, between 10 o'clock and 12:00 o'clock a.m., in the capacity of officials of the city. Those girls who filled positions were as follows: Shirley Oldroyd, mayor; Mae Wagstaff, Lucille Nelson, commissioners; Evelyn Haws, chief of police; Myrtle Maloney and Lyle S. Sorenson, policemen; Beth Harris, judge.

Honorary Basketball Banquet At noon members of the organization, homeroom representatives, Qui Viva club, girls' basketball team, and alumni basketball team attended the honorary basketball banquet at Keeley's. To the group approximately seventy girls, Simmons, Girls' president, read a short talk, and Gloria of the alumni team gave a Table decorations followed Easter theme, and each presented with a corsage and a peacock feather.

Featuring only girls as performers, an assembly was held in the auditorium at 2:15 p.m. The program consisted of skits in different versions of "Heaven". Prizes were awarded to the winners of the Girls' Day short poem contest. The Girls' basketball game was played immediately following the assembly.

Dance Features 'Heaven'

Stepping into a "Heaven" encircled by Provo high girl escorts when they entered the gymnasium to dance to the music of the Curtiss and his orchestra as angels, will furnish the entertainment. The ticket taker will be present during the dance, and light refreshments will be served.

During the dance, the girl chosen to rule over the dance, attendants will be announced.

QUI VIVA CLUB

Provo high school's pep club has been a spirited reason for much of the cheering at last season's games. Their intricate maneuvers in marching and tumbling has won them a place in the annals of pep history.

CLUB SCHEDULE

February 21—Dr. J. J. Weight—Treatment and Care of Mental Illness in Utah.

March 6—Dr. Elden Beck—Education for Marriage.

March 20—Dr. Lloyd N. Farmer—Venereal Diseases and the Human Race.

April 6—Mark Allen—The Care and Prevention of Feeble-mindedness in Utah.

April 20—Dr. S. E. Ramsey—Sterilization Programs in Utah.

May 4—Dr. Vasco M. Tanner—War and Population Problems.

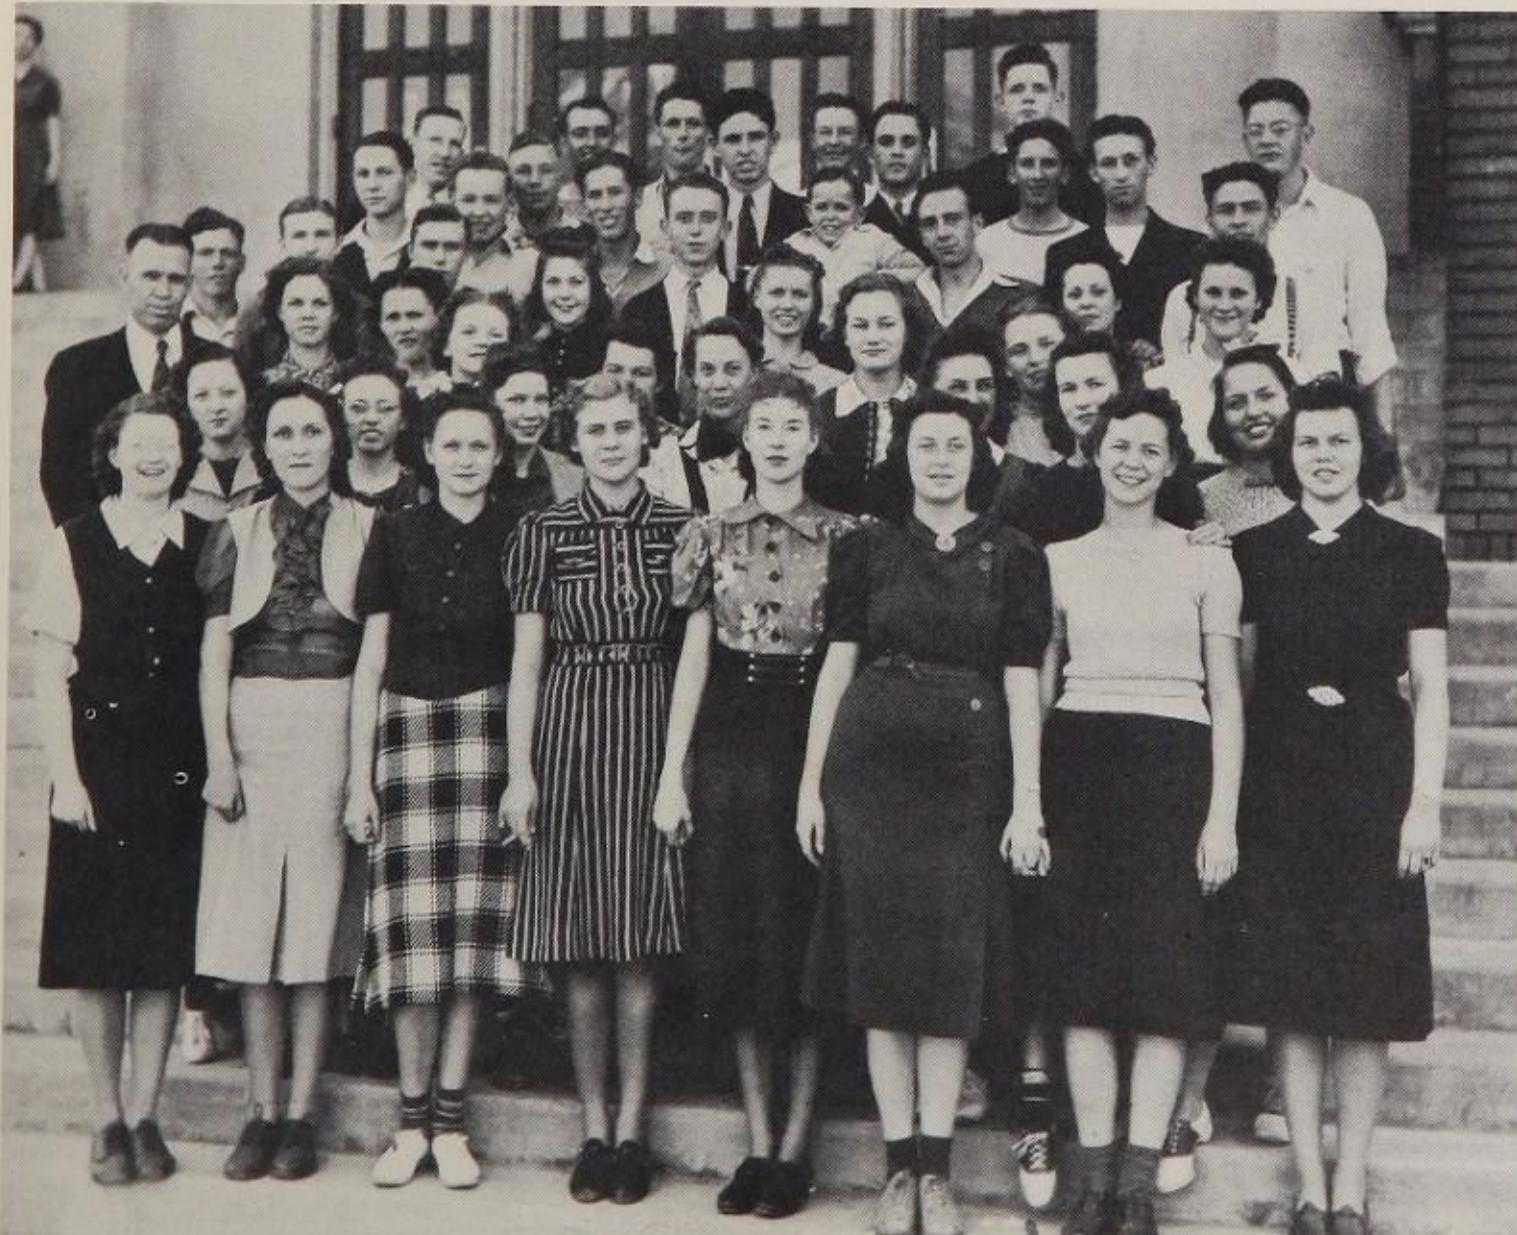

May 10—Clinics, Utah State Hospital, Utah State Training School.

OFFICERS

EUGENICS SOCIETY

Composed of interested students of the theatre, this club has been among the most active in the school. Their recent assembly, their participation in the Christmas Parade, and their presentation of plays in assemblies have marked them as progressive. Eunice Bird, speech director is sponsor of the group.

DRAMATIC ART CLUB

Faced with the task of insuring order in assemblies, this group has brought to a successful conclusion one of the finest years for order in the history of Provo high school.

Chosen among the finest of the student body, its members accepted their jobs with a sincerity and efficiency seldom found in school groups.

The glow of the steel plants pierce the night like some prehistoric or legendary monster angered and hostile. A monster that gorges itself on tons of raw materials each day for the blast furnace is operated continuously. Work may slow down or cease in other departments but the blast furnace keeps on belching out its precious store of pig iron. Steel is made in furnaces with a combination of raw iron, limestone, and scrap iron heaped on a shallow hearth and heated by gas flames. The alchemy performed there is the greatest triumph of man over nature in the history of the world. It is a creation of productive minds that have lent themselves to the solution of man's present and future needs in the formation of the gigantic, harnessed monster—steel.

HALL OF SERVICE

Behind every masterpiece of architectural construction that pushes its spires skyward, is welded the labor of unsung artisans, and cemented the efforts of countless laborers. So, too, in the execution of every successful activity of Provo high school are many whose actions go unrewarded, students whose tireless and unselfish efforts have made many of them possible. Desiring to recognize those students who would not receive this appreciation otherwise, this page is dedicated to them.

Reed Nilsen

Proof that brawn need not be without brain. Reed Nilsen has carved himself a niche in Provo high school's hall of fame that will go unequalled for a long time. Athletic manager, football, basketball, cinder trackster, band-member, and efficient Bouncer, Reed still finds time for fun and friendship.

Frank Gardner

Service keynotes the career of personable Frank Gardner. As student body president, president of the Utah county branch of the National Association of Student Officers, former junior class president, Provonian sports editor, band member, and an avid scouter, his versatility has been proved time and again.

Keith Ercanbrack

Keith Ercanbrack possesses an unrivaled sense of humor. Drummer in Provo high's band, Provost manager, bookkeeping team member, debater, chairman of the Senior Hop, and sports enthusiast are but a few of his accomplishments. Scholastically tops, his convivial spirit has won his many friends.

SONALITIES

Gladys Dixon

"Potential Hollywood," her friends say, "proved worth," her record shows. Student vice-president, seamstress, shorthand artist, and scholar, Gladys Dixon is a substantial reason for the popularity of the student body office. Gladys is also a pianist of merit secretly.

Birdie Boyer

Dramatic actress, and efficient politician, the success of the Senior Project can be paid to her tenacious efforts. As sophomore class vice-president, officer of the girls' organization, and vice-president of the senior class, her smile has won innumerable fans. Birdie possesses much latent talent artistically, and musically, too.

Una Loy Mason

Damon and Pythias had nothing on Una Loy Mason and Gladys Dixon. This inseparable duo comprise a goodly portion of Provo high school's charm school. Una Loy is secretary-treasurer of the student body and likewise a scholar. Her tapability, sense of humor, and twinkling eyes are responsible for this maid's popularity plus.

Throughout the vast realm of steel—at the mines and mills, the furnaces and finishing shops—every precaution is taken to safeguard the men who are performing the difficult and dangerous labor of making steel, to prevent accident, to instill caution, to impress upon the workmen their responsibilities toward one another to the end that this great work might go forward without damage to human life and contribute to the citizens of today and the citizens of tomorrow a world finer in every respect than when they received it.

Judging the future of this mighty industry from its past, steel will play an ever increasingly important part in the daily life of the world of the future, constantly moving forward to new heights of achievement.

ATHLETICS

Although it is customary to measure the accomplishments of an athletic department by the victories recorded, we feel that even greater achievements have been made by those who have represented the school on the basketball court and in track and tennis competition this year. The high morale of the teams, the clean living of the group as a whole, the sportsmanship displayed in every game and the sacrifice of personal glory for the glory of the team, coupled with a lion's share of victories, gives the school an athletic record of which it can be proud.

BASKETBALL

Although this year's Alpine hoop campaign was one of the most torrid races in many seasons, it was also one of the most successful for Bulldog cagers.

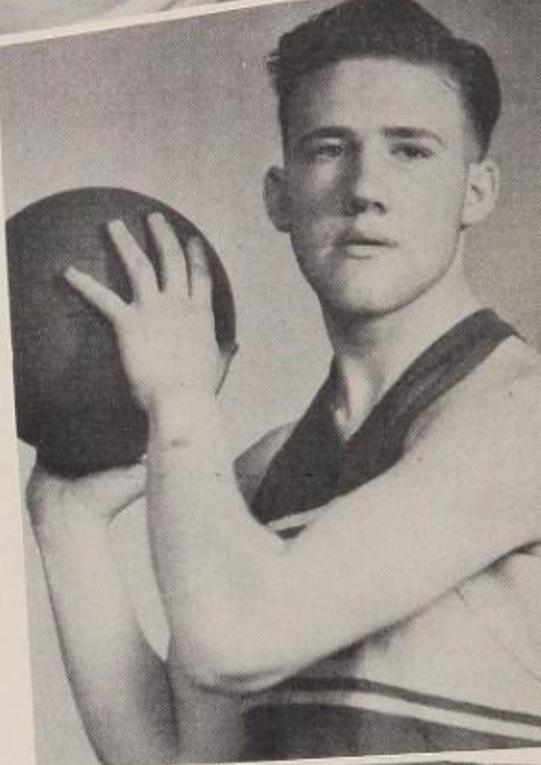

Ending the season with nine wins and one defeat in circuit warfare, the Provo club annexed the district title, then went on to place seventh in the state meet.

Decisive victories were registered over Pleasant Grove, Lincoln, B. Y. high and American Fork in first round play. Lehi stopped the rampaging Bulldogs, 25-23, in an overtime fracas staged in the Pioneer stockade to register the only league defeat against the Provo school.

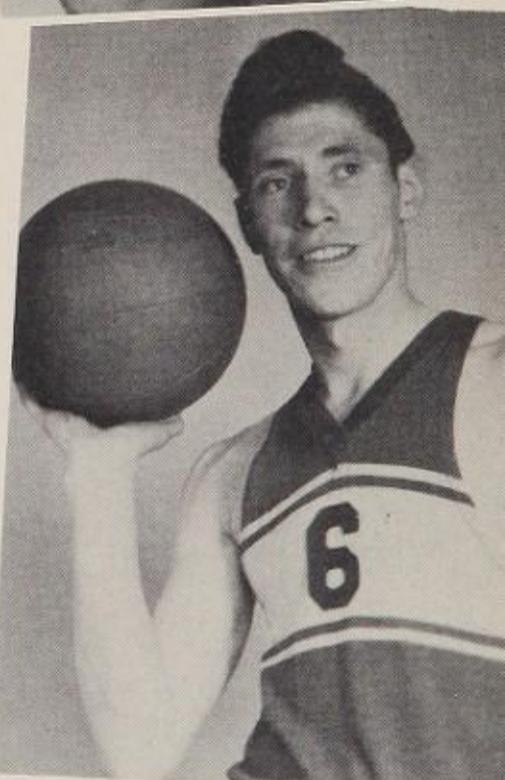

A percentage of five hundred was registered in the state tournament held in Salt Lake City during March. The Garden City cagers drubbed Ephraim, were defeated by South Cache, swamped South Summit, and were nosed out by Granite, defending state champs.

THE G. A. A.

Athletic participation and achievements have been successfully directed by the Girls' Athletic Association, supervised by Zoe Bullock, intramural manager. Varied tourneys for basketball, volley ball, and tennis were conducted between classes.

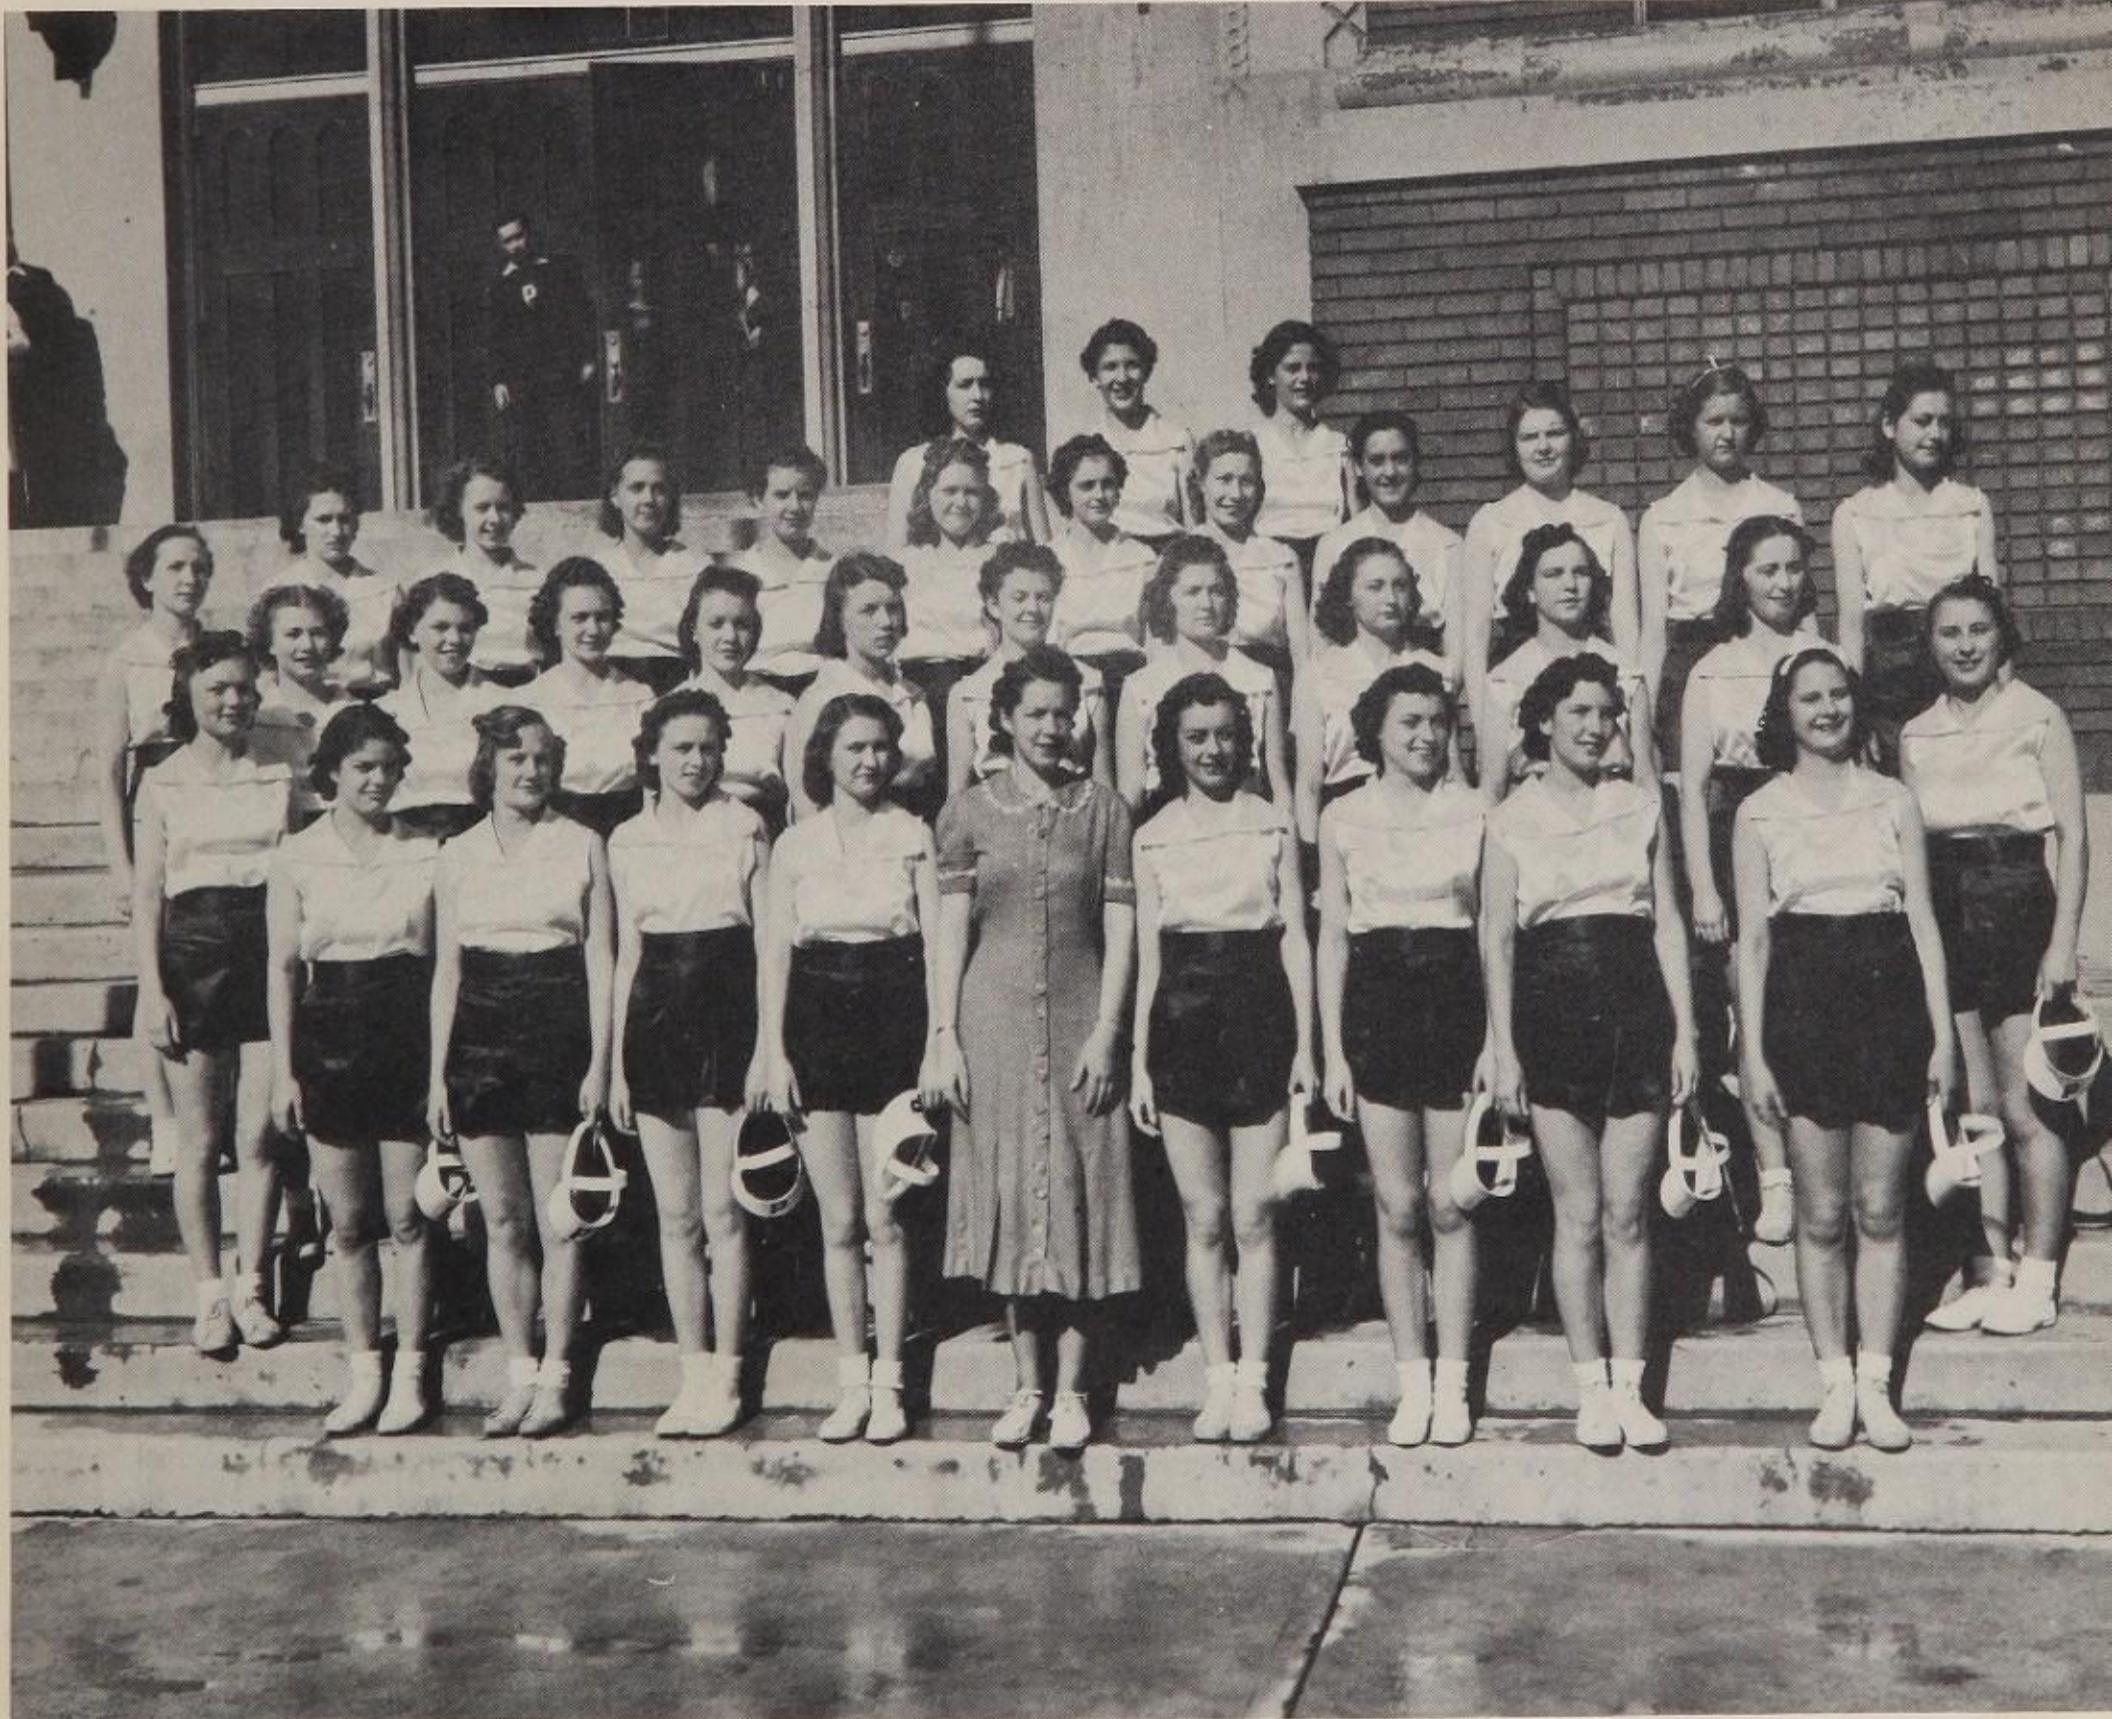

Winning six games and losing one, the Girls' basketball team introduced the girls into a very profitable season.

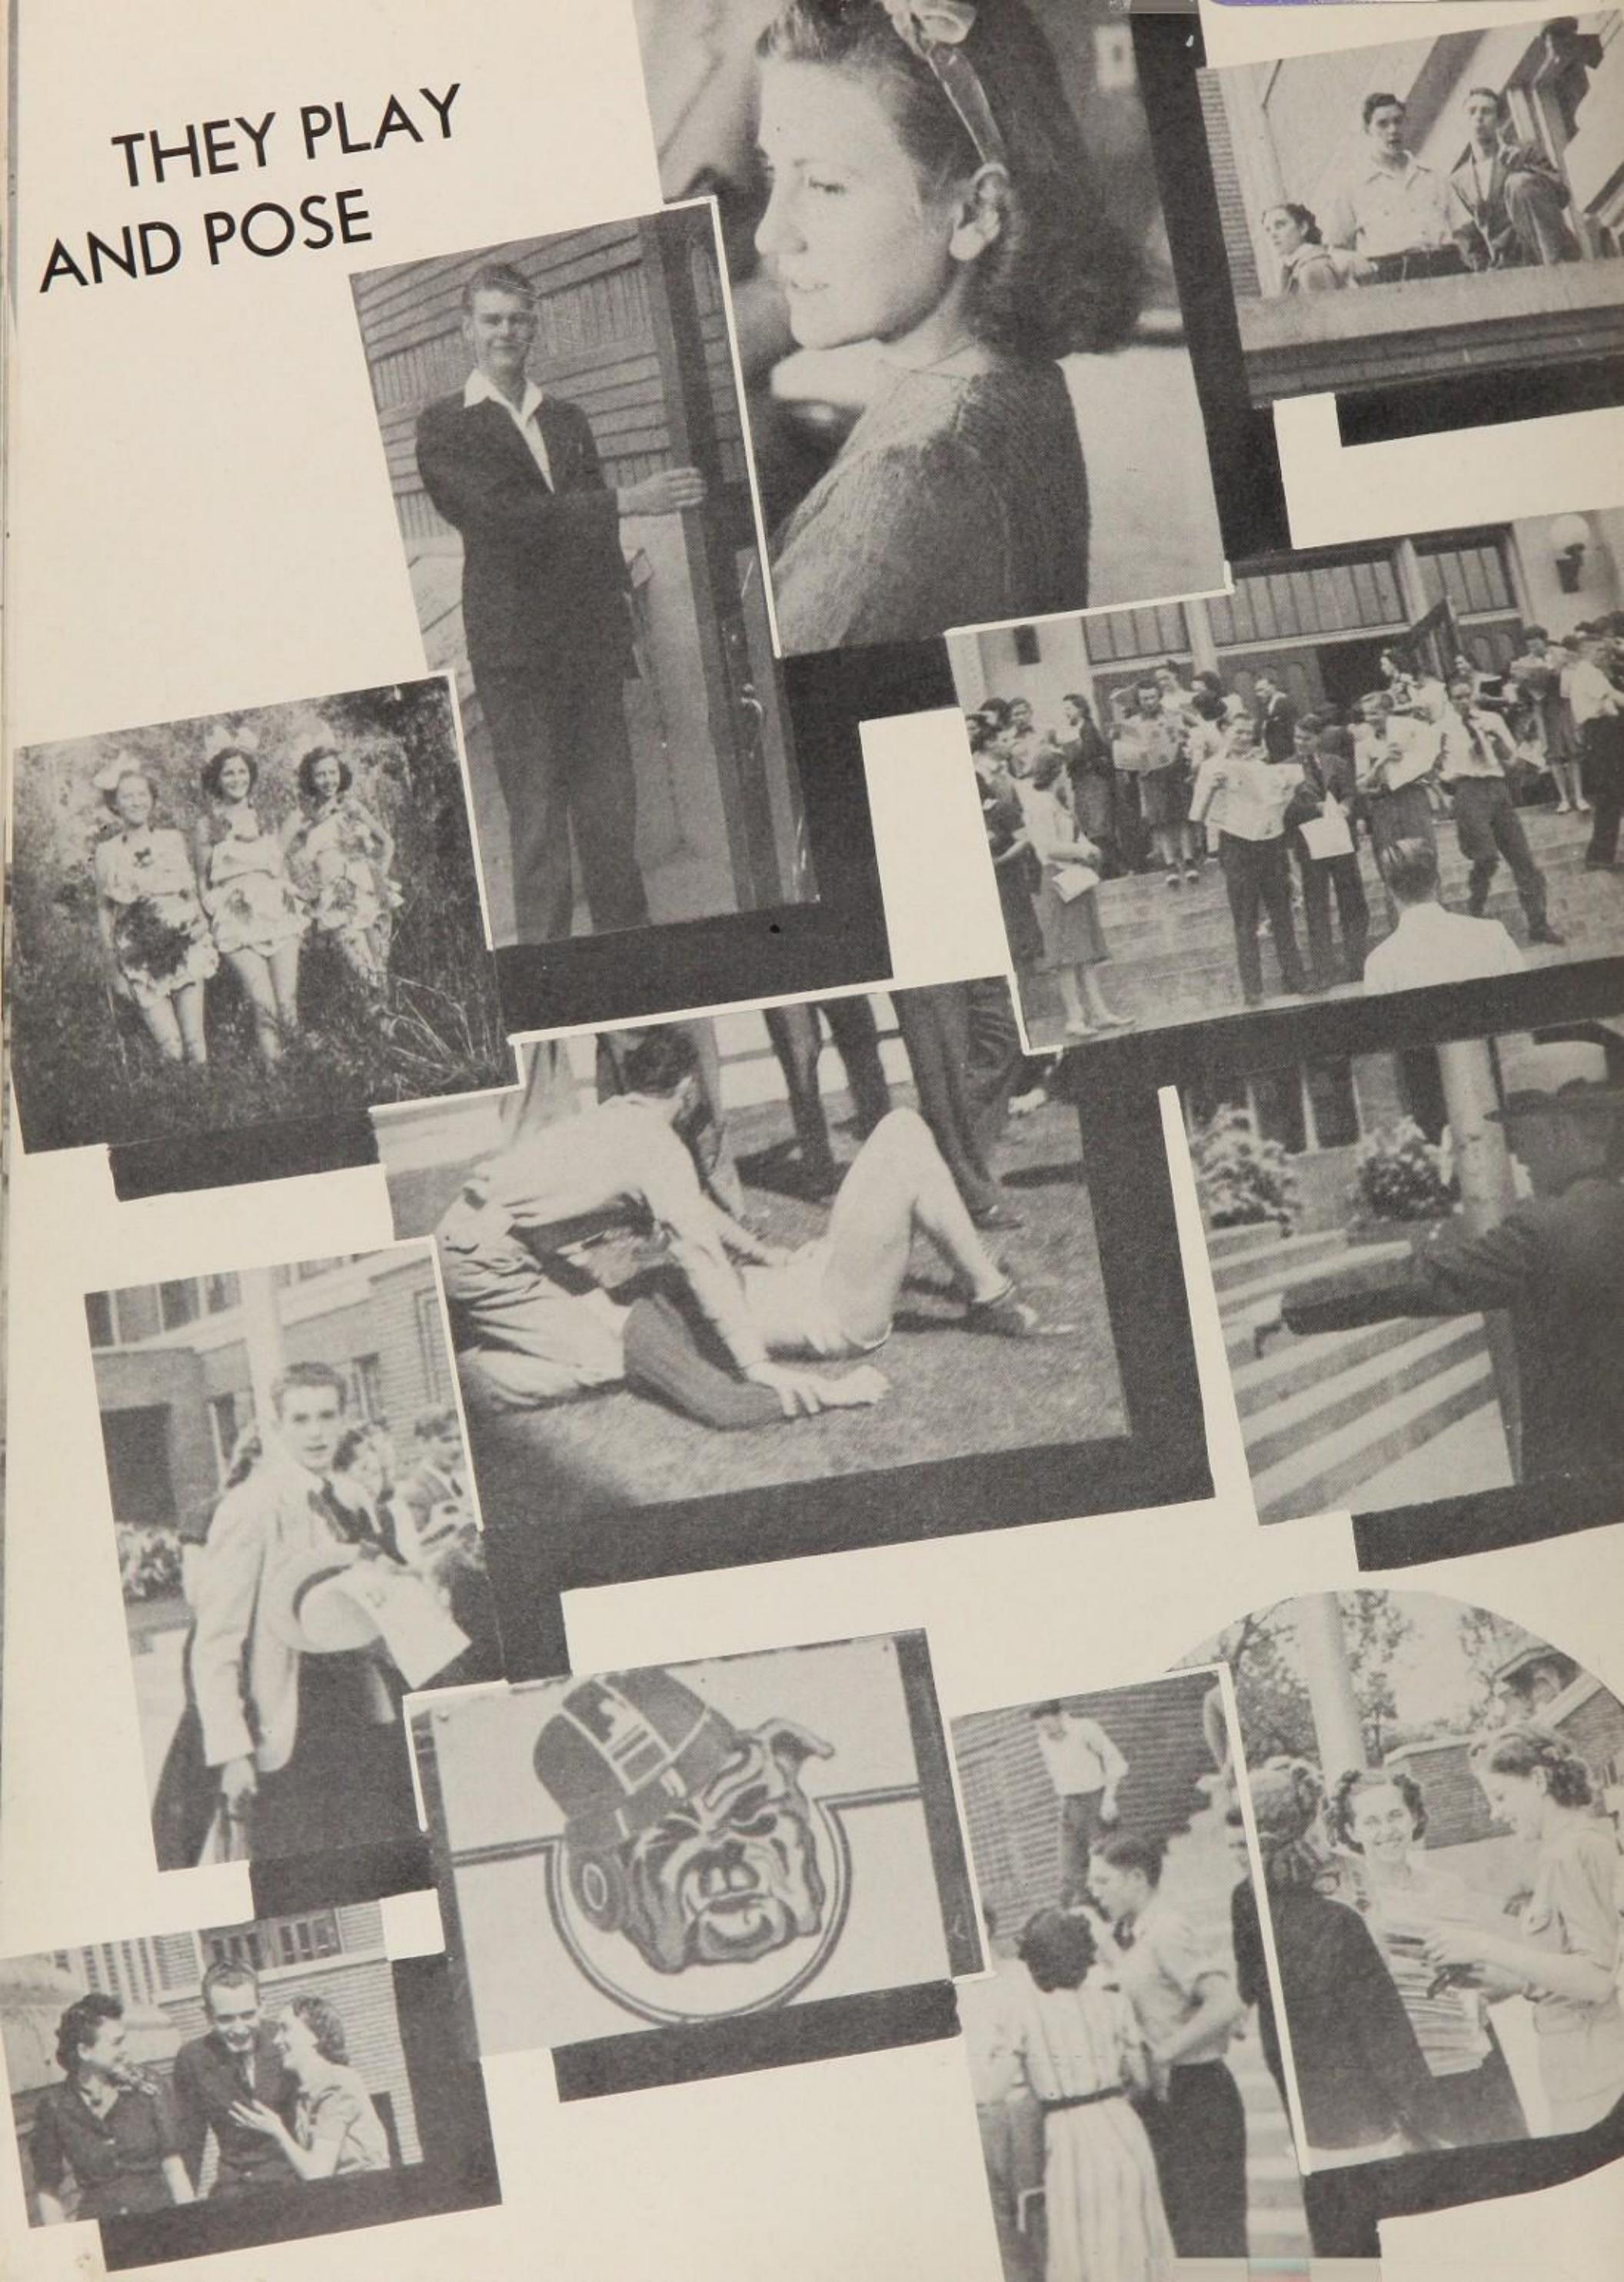

High honors were captured by girl participants in the annual Brigham Young University Track and field meet April 28-29. For the first time in several years the posture parade received a triple-A rating. Students entered in the dance events also were rated with a triple-A award.

Dear Lynn,

I think you're a plenty cute kid and I will surely miss you next year. Hope to see you around. Luck & Success.

Dear Lynn

I am indeed happy for our relations and associations during our school career. You have set many high standards may you always uphold them.

Success to You
